

CLAYTON

The turn-of-the-century residence of industrialist Henry Clay Frick that was featured on A&E's America's Castles is one of the nation's most perfectly intact Victorian homes. Helen Clay Frick, Mr. Frick's daughter, carefully preserved the magnificent paintings, decorative arts, and furnishings of the home that have remained in Clayton since the Fricks were in residence over one hundred years ago. For an additional fee, guests may enjoy a docent guided tour of Clayton.
