STEP 1

Select a piece of paper for the background. Cut that paper in half. This way you can make lots of sculptures. If you have cardstock that will make an even sturdier base

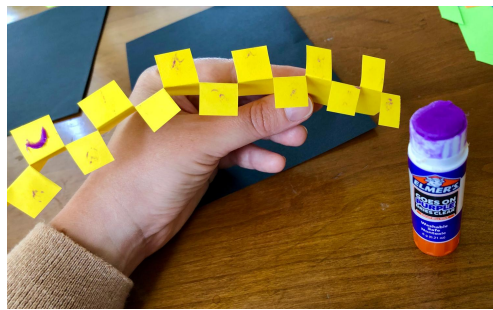

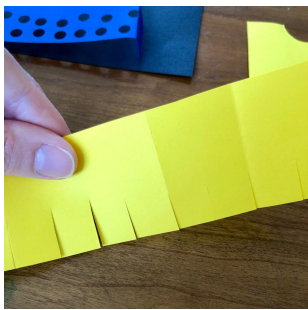

STEP 2

Cut the rest of the colorful paper into strips. Try to cut them into different thicknesses. You can also cut them different lengths

STEP 3

Next you can add lots of fun designs to your sculpture. Here are some techniques to try.

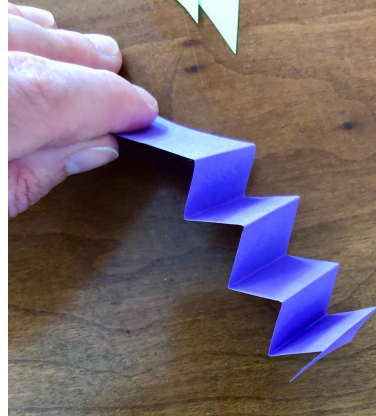

For this technique, use a thick strip of paper. Cut slits into the paper about halfway. Then fold over the slits going in the opposite direction for every other one. Then add glue to the tabs and place them on your base in a fun curved line

Take a piece of paper. Curl it around a pencil. Uncurl the paper slightly. You can glue this piece down flat or standing straight up. Try both ways!

You can make a zig zag piece by folding a strip of paper back and forth until you get to the end. Then stretch it out to make it stand tall. Overlapping the pieces of paper will create an interesting design.

Add as many pieces as you want! Try to make some tall and some short. You can even glue some pieces to each other. You can add texture to your paper by cutting areas out or adding lines or shapes with a marker.
